Get creative in Camden and Islington
Opportunities that support your Arts Award journey

So, you're working towards your Arts Award?

The great thing is that it's up to you what activities to choose!

Loads of creative events and projects are taking place right on your doorstep that can contribute to your Arts Award and we'll show you how you can get involved.

It could be taking part in a film, music or dance project, reviewing a live performance, or meeting the artists behind a theatre production. And that's just for starters...

Over the next few pages we'll introduce you to 16 creative organisations in Camden and Islington who have programmes for young creatives like you.

Every organisation listed has projects and opportunities that can help you achieve your award.

All the opportunities listed in this document are part of existing programmes in Camden and Islington. Sign up processes will vary, and some projects may have costs associated with them.

This document forms part of the Arts Award Shared Offer project, led by Roundhouse and Sadler's Wells in their roles as Arts Council Associate Bridge organisations.

How do I choose what's right for my Arts Award?

1 Bronze, Silver or Gold?

Go to the page relevant to the award you are taking.

2 Look at your options...

- What artforms are you interested in (i.e. music, photography)?
- What skills are you keen to develop?
- Where you would like to take part?
Our handy map shows you where organisations are based.

3 Take your pick!

Your Arts Award adviser will help you decide what's right for you.

So, who can help?

Gold level

At Gold level, you will grow as an artist and arts leader. Gold encourages in-depth exploration of your arts practice. You'll also take responsibility for planning, running and reviewing an arts project.

Here are some ideas and examples of how arts organisations could support you at Gold level.

All Change, October Gallery, The Place and WAC Arts can offer volunteering and work experience opportunities in their programmes. You can shadow workshop leaders, support project teams and find out more about how these organisations and their programmes operate.

With Almeida Happy Monday previews you can see an Almeida Theatre show on its first Monday performance and meet the creative team behind the production. Roundhouse's annual programme for young creatives also includes panel discussions with industry professionals.

Camden and Islington music hubs, led by Camden Music Service and Arts First can put you in touch with a range of music organisations. Great if you'd like to find out more about working in a music organisation, and build your skills and experience.

There are opportunities at October Gallery to use the space for your own event and as a Roundhouse Emerging Artist Member you have access to 24 state of the art studio spaces.

Finally, as a Young Friend of the Almeida you could have the chance to produce your own work.

You can find out about other opportunities across the UK at one of Arts Award's Supporter organisations

Arts Award is a range of nationally recognised qualifications that inspire young people to grow their artistic and leadership talents.

This resource forms part of the Arts Award Shared Offer project, led by Roundhouse and Sadler's Wells in their roles as Arts Council Associate Bridge organisations.

It highlights ways that programmes at arts organisations in Camden and Islington can support a young person working towards their Arts Award.
